Frequently Asked Questions

How long does the eKiosk take to heat up my food after I've made my selection?

On average it takes between 60 and 90 seconds to heat up one of our hot, restaurant quality meals.

How many meals does one of your eKiosks hold?

It depends on a host of factors, but our machines can hold up to 88 different restaurant quality dishes at the same time.

How often is the eKiosk filled?

We fill the machines as often as needed. By using technology, we know which meals have been purchased and need to be filled.

This is great. I'd like to get one put in where I live and work, but how do I contact you?

You can visit us online to request a machine. We're happy to have a team member visit your apartment building, condominium building, or office to discuss installing a machine.

At Aficionado, where possible, we obtain recipes and meal ideas from local food entrepreneurs and integrate them into our eKiosks.
